- Abstract:-

Study the rural and urban development through financial indepent in the 21st Century to know the problems and find solutions to them so as to create transparency in the urbanand rural development management.

- Introduction:-

Now days india celebrated 75th independent anniversary, but are country's 64% are living at rural area and semi urban area and these kinds of areas issues and problems very dark. Because local authorities have not capable to properly continuously providing all kinds services to their citizens. Behind one of the reason last 75th years era we couldn't happened do finically and Economically independent of local governance means all kinds of local authorities like gram panchayat, municipal council, municipal corporation. Father of nation Mahatma Gandhi numbers of time said that without the empowerment of rural area india's people can not be really enjoying their independent.
How to do socially and economically rural empowerment ? Now days we are living 21st century and hole 21st century based on science technology. So we can easily solve to these types of crucial issues. All kinds of local authorities will construct sewage & drainage lines and start one bio gas plant with use on human latrine, human latrine more powerful and effective compare to animal latrine after the biodegradable process complete production of methane gas start. So this methane gas can easily preserve and storage in tanks. So local authorities will commercially selling to residential people on low cost compare to LPG cylinder, Common man can easily affordable to methane gas for the purpose of cooking, and fuel of motor vehicle, and commercial use in industrial area's and metropolitan cities , town can affordable gas pipeline connect to residential buildings. Finally all kinds of local authorities earns lot of money and they will not be depending on state or union government funding. When local authorities will announce one schemes if every family constructing their own toilet at home , local authorities will provide connection in few rupees. So rural area's social issue related to toilet totally vanish. The radical and conservative mind set families own initiative solve the some issues and problems and Mahatma Gandhi's dream for Ram rajya concept 100% possible. IMF and IBRD these institution providing funding to local authorities and second golden way corporate social responsibilities fund providing by Corporate Sector.

- Meaning:-

Socially and Economically Empowerment of rural and urban Local Authorities development through financial independent , it means society's development growth not be possible for financial and economical stability, poverty, these types of issues not be recovered.
